6:30pm Presentations and discussion

This is an interactive workshop on the important things to know about a skin cancer practice. In one evening, we will try to answer some of the issues surrounding skin cancer diagnosis, management and follow-up. What are the common medico-legal issues in this area of medicine? What are the critical things to check on a histopathology report? What's an acceptable margin? When should we be concerned about misdiagnoses? How do we bill the surgical item numbers? What are our medicolegal responsibilities with regards to follow-up?

You are welcome to submit cases & questions for discussion prior to the workshop by emailing mccarthyv@ramsayhealth.com.au. All submissions will be confidential and all information should be de-identified. Don't miss out on this unique opportunity to ask the tricky questions.
